

---

Education Minister Misir Mardanov noted that the 20th January has entered into our history as a day of the fight for freedom and independence of our homeland and as the annals of national heroism.

Works of pupils of secondary schools and out-of school education institutions devoted to that horrible night were demonstrated at the exhibition jointly organized by the Ministry of Education and Baku city Education Department.

The opening ceremony of exhibition was attended by Education Minister Misir Mardanov. Speaking at the event, the Minister noted that the 20th January has entered our history as a day of the fight for freedom and independence of our homeland and as the annals of national heroism. According to him, these bloody events has received their political and legal assessment and the true essence of the tragedy has been brought to the international community after the national leader Heydar Aliyev returned to the power on insisting demand of people. Next, event attendees have become acquainted with the works of pupils.

It should be noted that over 180 works of young artists devoted to the 20th January tragedy will be demonstrated at the exhibition, which will run during the week.