Industry University (ASOIU).
Partic Participantsein: the event included headeof-theaHumanitarian Affairs Department at the Presidential Administration Fatma/Abdullazade, Minister of Education Mikayil Jabbarov, heads of higher education institutions, as well as Israeli and Ukrainian specialists.
$ASOIU\ {\it R}\ Rector/Mustafa\ Babanliib ighlighted\ the rimportance fof\ Startup\ project, which, the said; s'is\ based\ roninnovative\ ideas".$
Head of the Humanitarian Affairs Department at the Presidential Administration Fatma Abdullazade said the startup project would pave the way for the university's new accomplishments.
MilMinister of Education Mikayil Jabbarov highlighted the objectives of the project and its contribution to the education system.
"e"easySTART" startup school-features around 20 projects, of which the most promising and profitable ones would be implemented through local and foreign funding.
The project is designed to contribute to startup movement in Azerbaijan, and help youth transform their innovative ideas into business.
The project also aims to promote Azerbaijani projects and products both in the country and beyond.
Firefiteen startup projects were presented at the festival reproject authors highlighted the importance of their ideas. Participants of the ceremony then viewed Incubation Center and AzII-IT Club at the university.

On June 30, First graduation festival of "easySTART" startup school was held at Azerbaijan State Oil and